

MetaFastWorks

The Dynamics NAV solution for wholesale distributors

MetaFast provides small and medium-sized wholesale companies with an end-to-end, fully integrated business management solution.

Based on the power of Microsoft's Dynamics NAV, MetaFast's flexible, modular structure enables the addition of new or custom functionality as required to match the evolution of the business.

In the competitive and complex world of wholesale distribution, MetaFast delivers a solution with efficient workflows and faster order cycle times, delivering improved turnover and increased profits.

Introducing MetaFast

In an environment of global competition, increasing item and channel complexity and decreasing margins, distribution companies need a strong business management solution to support their operations.

The system should provide inventory and warehouse management tools married to powerful financial and sales applications.

The solution should integrate customer, order and financial information and support complex item structures and inventory tracking, warehouse layout and use, pick/pack processes, labelling, shipping, and order tracking.

Repetitive tasks, or those dependent on the successful completion of an earlier process, can be automated or batch processed to save time, reduce errors, and focus employee attention on satisfying customers.

Investments in inventory are maximised by improving decisions on item acquisition, storage, handling and replenishment.

Quick access to, and analysis of, business information helps improve decision-making.

Accurate and timely information allows managers to plan effectively, make informed business decisions and comply with regulations or customer requests – ranging from Sarbanes-Oxley to product tracking and full traceability.

All this function and flexibility is exactly what small and medium-sized distribution companies need.

And what's more, the system that delivers all this must be competitively priced, easy to use, quick to implement, easy to adapt to your own business or industry requirements and flexible enough to provide a long-term solution as the company grows.

That solution is MetaFast.

MetaFast is ideal for wholesalers or eTailers, for companies that install products or carry out projects and for organisations that offer a service contract behind the products they distribute.

Whether you sell major capital goods or offer next-day delivery, whether you handle thousands of products or deal with thousands of options on the same product – MetaFast will handle it.
